THE CLOSING QUOTATIONS OF MONEY.

Offerings and Sales at a Richmond Tobacco Exchange—Internal Revenue Collections—Foreign Advances.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Higher prices for American securities in London brought about by the favorable October statement of the St. Paul and Burlington companies, led to a very strong opening of the stock market here this morning. Before the rise had made much headway, however, the market was checked by a report that the St. Paul and Burlington companies had been ordered to suspend dividend payments. This news, however, was soon corrected, and the market recovered its strength. The closing was a strong one, with most of the leading stocks showing gains. The St. Paul and Burlington companies' stocks were particularly prominent, showing gains of 1 1/2% and 1% respectively. The market was characterized by a strong demand for American securities, and the closing was a strong one, with most of the leading stocks showing gains.
